Mrs. Fred Unrath.
President Country Club, Benton Harbor, Mich.

"After my first baby was born I did not seem to regain my strength although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband insisted that I take Wine of Cardui for a week and see what it would do for me. I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength and health slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

Wine of Cardui reinforces the organs of generation for the ordeal of pregnancy and childbirth. It prevents miscarriage. No woman who takes Wine of Cardui need fear the coming of her child. If Mrs. Unrath had taken Wine of Cardui before her baby came she would not have been weakened as she was. Her rapid recovery should commend this great remedy to every expectant mother. Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow.

ENGLISHMAN GOT A SHOCK.

Cultured Chinaman Made Him Lose His Sense of Superiority.

A writer in London M. A. P. tells of meeting Sir Chi Chen, afterward the Chinese embassador to London, in Tientsin when the latter was plain Mr. Lo Feng Luh, an undersecretary of state in the entourage of the viceroy of the province, Li Hung Chang. "My own mission was to the 'Bismarck of China,' as the one statesman in faroff Cathay was known at the time, which was before the fall," says the writer, "and Mr. Lo Feng Luh had been deputized to serve me in the double capacity of cicerone and interpreter.

"We sat sipping tea in the long wait which in Chinese court life follows the announcement of your name and precedes your reception, and is supposed to deepen your respect for the great man of whom you have sought an audience and to deaden in yourself any lingering consciousness of British superiority. Then it was that Mr. Lo Feng Luh suddenly opened up his battery of questions and criticism upon the leading men of letters, philosophers and theologians of Europe. His inquiries were not, indeed, of the alumni of one nation, but of many, and when he had done with Spencer, Huxley, Darwin, the Elizabethan poets, the theology of Dollinger, the writing of Comte, the plays of Moliere, he wafted his way to America and was promptly at home with Oliver Wendell Holmes, James Russell Lowell and the funny stories of Mr. Chauncey Depew."

The Sargasso Sea.

The Sargasso sea is a region in the Atlantic about midway between southern Europe and America, extending from 21 to 23 degrees north latitude and between 29 and 45 degrees west longitude. It derived its name from a Portuguese word signifying a grape, and was so called because the seaweeds characteristic of the region bear on their branches small air cells, which in shape are not unlike the grape clusters. The weeds themselves are among the most peculiar of vegetable productions, since they have no roots nor any signs of fructification and are propagated by division. They float in the water, sometimes in dense masses extending for miles.

This portion of the Atlantic is a great eddy, little affected by the currents which surround it on every side, and the stillness of the water, it is supposed, has contributed to the development of the weeds in the vast quantities in which they are found. The floating masses were noticed by Columbus and his men, to whom they were a source of uneasiness, as the sailors supposed they indicated shallow water. Detached masses of the weed are often seen in the gulf stream, and the long, yellow lines of floating weed are a sure indication of its close proximity.

Power and Nose.

A large nose is always an unfailing sign of a decided character. It belongs to the man of action, quick to see and to seize opportunity. A small nose indicates a passive nature, one less apt to act, although he may feel as deeply. He will have many theories, while the possessor of a large nose will have deeds to show. Persons with small noses are most loving and sympathizing, but their friendship is not the active kind.

A nose with the tip slightly tilted is the sign of the heartless flirt. A long nose shows dignity and repose. A short nose, pugnacity and a love of gayety. An arched nose—one projecting at the bridge—shows thought. A straight nose shows an inclination toward serious subjects. A nose that turns up slightly indicates eloquence, wit and imagination. If turned up much, it shows egotism and love of luxury. A nose that slopes out directly from the forehead, that shows no indenting between the eyes, indicates power. If the nose is indented deeply at the root, the subject will be weak and vacillating. A nose that turns down signifies that the possessor is miserly and sarcastic.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Bold "Ad."

As may be supposed, the largest advertisement in the world is that of an American firm. But the giant "ad." is not in America. Far off across the rolling deep it is spread along the face of a cliff on one of the islets of the Canary group, so that all passing steamers may sight it and their passengers have the benefit of its advice. The whole sentence is 750 feet long and is painted on the cliff at a height of 300 feet from the waves. There are four words in letters each 30 feet high and 75 feet wide. The huge sign can be seen for miles at sea on a clear day. The boldness of the thing almost takes away any anger which one may feel at the disfigurement of the islet by this bit of commercial enterprise.

FISHING DOWN CHIMNEYS.

A Sinker as Necessary on the Lines as on Those Dropped in the Sea.

"Fish-lines," said a man standing on a roof and apparently fishing with a drop line down a chimney, "are, as you will observe if you will wait here a minute, not the only ones on which sinkers are used."

As he spoke he ceased alternately raising and lowering the line a little as he had been doing as though making the bait active to attract some fish below and hauled up the line altogether, and on the end of it was seen not a bait, but a stubby, cylindrical brush of red splints, and below that a heavy sinker. What the man was fishing for in the chimney was soot—not to haul it up, but to dislodge it so that it would fall to where it could be taken out at the chimney openings below.

"In the old days chimneys were bigger," this roof fisherman continued. "They used to go down inside of chimneys to clean them, men or boys, oftenest boys. You've heard, no doubt, of people being stuck in a chimney, but now, with the burning of hard coal and with less soot and less need for big chimneys and with the economy of space due to the increasing value of land, chimneys are made smaller. The flues are now so small that you can't go down 'em, and you have to clean 'em from the top.

"Of course the brush has got to be used enough to reach the sides of the flue and clean the soot off, and if there are projections inside the flue or there is any change of direction in it the brush, being itself pretty large, but not very heavy, might lodge there and not go beyond that point. Hence the attaching of the sinker to carry the brush down through the flue and past obstructions that otherwise might stop it, and a pretty good big one it must be. In fact, a sinker is as necessary in fishing down a chimney as in fishing on the sea."—New York Sun.

Making Sure of His Honesty.

As the daily train reached a Vermont village the other day an antique looking dame thrust her head out of the window opposite the refreshment room and briefly said:

"Sonny!"

A bright looking boy came up to the window.

"Little boy," she said, "have you a mother?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Do you go to school?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"And are you faithful to your studies?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Do you say your prayers every night?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Can I trust you to do an errand for me?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"I think I can, too," said the lady, looking steadily down on the manly face. "Here is five cents to get me an apple. Remember, God sees you."—Boston Courier.

Why He Was Glad.

A police official was saying the other day that he had hardly ever seen an Irishman who wasn't ready with a quick retort, no matter what the circumstances might be.

"It was about three years ago that I arrested a certain fellow," he said. "He was about the drunkest man I ever saw to be still standing on his feet. As soon as I got hold of him he wanted to make trouble. He was just like many others from the ould sod when they get full of bad 'booze' and they think there is a chance for a scrap. He made a pass at me, but I reached over and tapped him once on the head with my stick. He became quiet right away, and he looked up at me and said:

"'And what toime is it?'

"Of course I couldn't help but answer, 'Just struck one.'

"'Well, if thot's so,' he answered, 'Oi'm glad yez didn't hit me an hour sooner.'"—Louisville Times.

Bird Hunting on Horseback.

Kentuckians of the blue grass region hunt birds on horseback. A Kentuckian's hunter must not only be willing to stand while the owner dismounts and goes to look after a covey of birds, but must also allow the owner to fire a shotgun from its back.

A great deal of the hunting in the blue grass region is now done in this way, and many of the sportsmen are as good at wing shooting from the saddle as from the ground.—Exchange.

Sick of Tigers.

A cynical old man once found himself in the company of a large number of Anglo-Indians, and he proceeded to ask each guest if he had shot a tiger. At last one gentleman declared he had never even seen the royal beast.

"Thank God!" exclaimed the questioner. "May I sit next to you at dinner? I am so weary of hearing about the deaths of tigers."—Athenæum.

GREAT SHOEMAKERS.

George Fox's Suit of Leather and Roger Sherman's Common Sense.

Carlyle said that one of the most remarkable incidents in history was that of the making of George Fox's suit of leather. He made it himself. The man, the first of the Friends, and by trade a shoemaker, was one to whom the divine ideal of the universe seemed to be manifested. Fox made shoes until he became so interested in the books he had studied that he could not hold himself in check. He had to preach. He had no clothes fit to wear, so he made himself a leather suit that would withstand years of wear. Carlyle wrote, "Let some Angelo or Rosa picture George Fox on that morning when he spread out his cutting board for the last time and cut cowhides by unwonted patterns and stitched them together into one continuous all including case, the farewell service of his awl."

"Roger Sherman never said a foolish thing in his life," said Thomas Jefferson. "Roger Sherman had more common sense than any other man I ever knew," said another eminent man. "When I come in late, and do not know which way to vote," said Fisher Ames, "I ask how Sherman voted. He always votes right." Sherman was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. He was a shoemaker until he was twenty-one years old. People used to point out where he sat, where he worked and studied, and where he could set his book so that he could glance at it in the interval of the work of the hammer and the awl. Of his connection with the "gentle craft" he was never ashamed. He declared in congress against a certain contract for shoes. "The charges are exorbitant," he said, which fact he proved by specifying the cost of the leather and the materials and of the work. The minuteness with which this was done excited surprise, and then he said to the committee, "I am by trade a shoemaker." Yes, a patriot and shoemaker he was, and in both capacities he was pre-eminent for common sense.—Success.

A Train Problem.

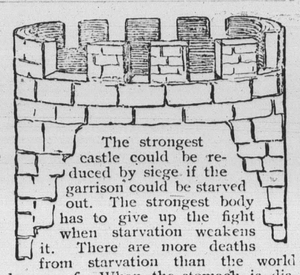
It is seldom, indeed, that the following question is answered correctly offhand:

A train starts daily from San Francisco to New York and one daily from New York to San Francisco, the journey lasting five days. How many trains will a traveler meet in journeying from New York to San Francisco?

About ninety-nine persons out of a hundred would say five trains, as a matter of course. The fact is overlooked that every day during the journey a fresh train is starting from the other end, while there are five trains on the way to begin with. Consequently the traveler will meet not five trains, but ten.

What an "Inch" of Rain Means.

Few people can form a definite idea of what is involved in the expression, "An inch of rain." It may aid such to follow this curious calculation. An acre is equal to 6,272,640 square inches. An inch deep of water on this area will be as many cubic inches of water, which, at 227 to the gallon, is 22,000 gallons. This immense quantity of water will weigh 220,000 pounds, or 100 tons. One-hundredth of an inch alone is equal to one ton of water to the acre.



The strongest castle could be reduced by siege if the garrison could be starved out. The strongest body has to give up the fight when starvation weakens it. There are more deaths from starvation than the world dreams of. When the stomach is diseased and the food eaten is not digested and assimilated, then the strength of the body begins to fail because of lack of nutrition, and the weak body falls an easy victim to the microbes of disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores physical strength in the only possible way, by enabling the assimilation of the nutrition contained in food.

"I was sick for over three years with a complication of stomach troubles," writes Mr. John H. Castona, residing at 222 Arch St., Chicago, Illinois. "Had tried every good physician I knew of, as well as many patent medicines, but received only temporary relief. One day a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I immediately procured some and began its use. Commenced to gain the first week, and after I had taken only one bottle I could eat as well as any one without experiencing ill effects. I took five bottles, and to-day am happy to announce that I am as well and healthy as any one could be. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains. You lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send twenty-one one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or thirty-one stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Supervisors and The County Physician.

THE action of the Board of Supervisors in passing resolutions endorsing the administration of County Physician Shearer and expressing their confidence in his honesty in the management of the County Hospital and Farm may not be approved by a few disgruntled politicians at the county seat, but for all that it was but an act of justice to a man who has managed those institutions with economy, prudence and skill. The recent Grand Jury that indicted Dr. Shearer for an alleged misappropriation of $105 appear to have fallen under the spell of a political boss who would rule the official acts or ruin the reputations of county officials. It is a remarkable thing that the entire four indictments returned by that body were against men of more or less prominence in the political affairs of the county. That may be a coincidence. But we doubt it.

THE Examiner, in a leading editorial in Wednesday's paper, favors longer lunch hours for the army of employees in the metropolis, claiming that if an hour were given the over-worked employee to satisfy the cravings of the inner man, instead of twenty or thirty minutes, his health would not only be preserved but he would be enabled to do better work and more of it for his employer. We agree with the Examiner there, and for the purpose of testing the proposition would suggest that our big city contemporary set the example with its own employees from Manager Williams, who usually, it is said, takes fifteen minutes for lunch, down to the reporters and printers, who all but eat while they work.

THE weather has been quite variable this week. There has been slight frosts, variable winds, desultory showers, sunshine, clouds and and balmy breezes. A good rain this month would be welcomed by our dairymen and those of our farmers who have seeded their land to hay and grain. The recent winds have dried out considerable of the moisture in the soil but sufficient still remains to keep things growing in this valley for a week or two. The prospects for a most bounteous harvest of fruit and grain never was more promising in April.

It was about 8 when she tumbled from bed
And she took
A good look
At her face.

Her hair was most terribly mussed on her head—
But she took
A good look
At her face.

And when she had dressed and was combing her hair.
And "doing it up" with the utmost of care—
Each time that she thought of herself, "I am fair"—
Why! she took
A good look
At her face.

When fixed for a plunge with the shoppers, she stood
And she took
A good look
At her face.

And then, on the street car, she found that she could
So she took
A good look
At her face.

She sought out the mirrors each place that she went
Before she could feel any sort of content—
She had to be certain no feature was bent—
So she took
A good look
At her face.

She hurried around. When she finished the day—
Why! she took
A good look
At her face.

She adjusted the plaster she wore—by the way—
When she took
A good look
At her face.

Her powder rag hastily came into sight
Whenever she deemed it was needed—that's right!
And she used it quite often 'twixt morning and night—
When she took
A good look
At her face.

When through with the day and prepared for repose—
Why! she took
A good look
At her face.

She smeared it with glycerine—water of rose—
As she took
A good look
At her face.

She put on her "nighty" and scurried about,
And then to be certain—not have any doubt—
The very last thing e'er the light was put out—
Why! she took
A good look
At her face.

Danger of Colds and Grip.

The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

A Heart to Heart Talk

We sat at the table—the alderman, the doctor and I. The subject of dieting was brought up in conversation. "No man," said the alderman, "can tell me what I ought to eat without knowing my habits of life, my temperament and all — is that not so, doctor?" "Perfectly right," said he, "what suits your stomach may not fit mine, and yet nine men out of ten are presumptuous enough to tell you what you ought to eat." "Yes," said I, "they don't appreciate that there is just as great a difference between two men's stomachs as there is between their brains. Overwork some men's stomachs and they will easily respond to the task, just as some men's brains can take care of endless details, but the majority will break down with the overload." "Indigestion," said the doctor, "is not a disease but an admonition — it is the red light that signifies—danger. It is the language of the stomach to prepare for serious trouble if allowed to persist. Bitters and alcoholic medicines are poor means for stimulating the stomach to perform a larger share of work than it ought. The effect on the stomach is like the spur to the weary horse—it weakens him and shortens his life. A rational treatment," continued the doctor, "is moderate eating of wholesome foods, and only those which the person likes. Occasionally, say once a week, a dinner pill should be taken which should be entirely of vegetable ingredients — like Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets — that will not purge, but act gently on the liver, stomach and bowels. To my mind the main dependence for curing permanently the indigestion which has become chronic — the 'heart-burn,' the sour eructations, the worst cases of dyspepsia — is that alterative extract made from medicinal herbs that Doctor Pierce calls his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' for it contains no alcohol to overstimulate the stomach, but it simply goes to work in the right way—correcting the liver, purifying the blood and assimilating the food so that the stomach takes up its labors with activity and refreshed powers. It fills the arteries with the pure, rich, red blood of health. It tears down, and carries off old, inert and half-dead tissues and replaces them by new. It builds firm, healthy flesh. It makes the muscles strong and elastic and steadies and tones the nerves. It cures debility and weakness of every description."

W. Walter McGloshen, of Reinbeck, Iowa, writes: "I took only four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and these remedies did me a world of good. I am thankful for your kind advice and praise the medicines highly. Will recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all my friends as the best medicines ever made for the troubles for which they are recommended. There is nothing equal to them for stomach troubles."

C. P. Spencer, of Plano, Okla., wrote: "I can hardly express my thanks for the benefit I have received from taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' They worked like a charm in my case. Am in better health now than for some time, and will not fail to recommend your medicines to my suffering friends. I hope you will receive my thanks for the good your medicine has done me."

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER.

BOQUETS OF WILD FLOWERS FOR PASSENGERS.

A Unique Ceremonial Inaugurated by the California Northwestern.

A pretty and unique ceremonial was inaugurated last Sunday by the California Northwestern Railway Company and one, too, that will do much toward advertising the valley.

Upon the arrival of the afternoon train going south the passenger coaches were invaded by a bevy of young girls who presented to each occupant a pretty little bouquet of wild flowers, the California poppy predominating. Attached to each bouquet was a neatly printed card worded as follows: "Compliments of the California Northwestern Railway, the Picturesque Route of California."

The presentation of these little bouquets took place at a number of other stations along the main and branch lines of the company, and brought forth many expressions of delight from the recipients. Station Agent G. W. Reed had charge of the affair in this place. This unique method of attracting the attention of travelers to the territory traversed by the California Northwestern is said to have originated in the fertile brain of Mr. R. X. Ryan, the General Passenger Agent of the road, who by the way is doing much to build up the business of the road and to populate this part of the State.

EASTER SERVICES IN THE CHURCHES.

Eloquent Sermons, Appropriate Music and Beautiful Decorations.

Easter services were held in the Congregational Church last Sunday and the Rev. Mr. Kirtland, the pastor, delivered an impressive and appropriate sermon to a large congregation. The church was artistically decorated with Easter lilies and choice cut flowers. Miss Claire Hope rendered a beautiful solo, "Hosanna" by Granier, and Mr. Clark Gains sang "Calvary."

High Mass was celebrated at St. Francis' Church in this place on Easter Sunday morning. The Rev. Father Leahy preached a most eloquent sermon and Miss Ella Bethune sang "Offertory," "Ave Marie" and the "Concorcis Mass." Other solos were sung by Miss N. Haraszthy and Miss Agnes Maloney. The large church was beautifully decorated with white flowers and on the altar stood a handsome cross of white lilies.

An impressive Easter service was held in the Methodist Church last Sunday morning. The Rev. Mr. Case, the pastor, preached an excellent sermon and the choir sang several beautiful sacred selections. The church was decked in white flowers and tall vases of white calla lilies were placed in conspicuous places.

Railway Employees Promoted.

Two important railway promotions were announced by the California Northwestern last Saturday.

F. K. Zook, formerly superintendent and chief engineer of the road, was made general superintendent and chief engineer with headquarters in Tiburon. Mr. Zook has been with the California Northwestern since the construction of the road. He was for a number of years passenger conductor, leaving that position to assume the one from which he has just been promoted. The second appointment was that of W. J. Hunter, formerly assistant superintendent, who has been raised to the position of superintendent of the road, with headquarters at Tiburon. He also has been in the service of the company for many years, having held the position of trainman, conductor and superintendent successively.

Both gentlemen are well-known and popular with the patrons of the road and enjoy the confidence and esteem of their superiors.

Death of an Estimable Woman.

Mrs. Fanny Gray, widow of the late Dr. Wm. K Gray and an aunt of the editor of this paper, died at her home in East Orange, New Jersey, on the 7th of last month at the ripe old age of 78 years. The deceased came of good old Revolutionary stock. She was born in Orange county, New York, in 1824, but had lived in East Orange for nearly sixty years. Mrs. Gray was a highly cultured lady and the mother of a large family, all of whom are living. Dr. Richard Gray of Chicago is a son and Mrs. Mary Sanger of East Orange a daughter. Mrs. Gray was the last of a family of five, all of whom lived beyond the allotted three score years and ten except one, a brother who died while yet a young man.

Big Vauderville Show and Dance To-Night.

The vauderville company connected with the company of Herb Doctors have been giving a series of entertainments all this week in Union Hall.

The performances have been good ones, and the company is far better than the average traveling shows.

The singing is good, musical selections very good and each evening a farce comedy is given that makes everybody laugh. To-night a dance will be given after the show which will last till 12 o'clock. An entire new program will be given and a good time is promised to all who attend.

GLEN ELLEN

By Chappie.

Leo Justi is spending several weeks in Rutherford, Napa county.

Gertrude Lane has been visiting her uncle, Dr. C. C. O'Donnell, at Cozy Cottage.

Mr. Itell has gone to San Francisco to secure machinery for the new brick plant.

Emmet Smith, who is a telegraph operator in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company, has been transferred from Sacramento to Oakland.

Wm. Dodde of San Francisco spent Sunday with his brother-in-law, Mr. Stein, whose ranch is located in the foothills near this place.

James Cowan, our efficient roadmaster, is getting the county roadway ready for the oil. He is a very conscientious man and is doing full justice to his work. We shall soon have one of the finest driveways in the country.

The Cramer mine is now incorporated with a capital stock of $20,000. The incorporators are going to put up a five-stamp mill and work their own ore and rush the business right through. Petaluma capitalists have taken hold of it.

Mrs. C. C. O'Donnell is now here getting her cottages ready for the summer trade. She is a woman of business tact, gracious manners and has a delightful way of making her guests feel comfortable and at home. The O'Donnell place is the most popular resort in the valley.

A wagon load of Pikers passed through this burg Wednesday. One of the wheels of their conveyance gave out and they took it into the blacksmith shop for repairs. Being short of coin they marshaled a whole band of youngsters into the shop, telling Mr. Payne to take his pick. But our village blacksmith couldn't see it. Being long on that kind of stock himself he preferred coin to kids and turned the band adrift and locked his doors. It required the united efforts of the parents, the townspeople and City Marshal Allen to round up the kids and get them out of town.

The oyster supper at Mayflower Hall last Monday night was a very brilliant affair. It was under the auspices of Mr. and Mrs. T. Froment. The Misses Crepin furnished the music, Mr. W. S. Bonbright recited several fine selections and Mr. Cherrington sang to Miss Crepin's piano accompaniment. Mr. Bonbright is a finished elocutionist and has formed a class here which will be of great advantage to the young people who wish to have their voices cultivated, trained and improved. It is seldom such rare opportunities occur in a little country town like this, but Mr. Bonbright has cast his lot here and with his mother, a charming lady, cordial and pleasant in manner, lives in the coziest little home imaginable. They are a great acquisition to our town and invaluable to the church and society.

Well, we have a brickyard. It is an assured fact. Work was begun on the plant Wednesday morning. Dr. O'Donnell has taken the bull by the horns and is going ahead with the project himself. He has quite a number of men already employed and will increase the force as the work advances. Dr. O'Donnell deserves the heartiest thanks of the Glen Ellenites. He is a man of means, influence and energy. He has done more for the advancement of the town than all the other capitalists together. Indeed, he is the only one who has really worked for the betterment of conditions here. But for him Glen Ellen would be nothing but a side track. The doctor has spent lavishly a great deal of money here and the end is not yet. He has something in view that will surpass all his former endeavors. Cozy Castle is a most luxurious home, where Dr. and Mrs. O'Donnell's friends are always welcomed—hospitable, open-handed and the latch string always hangs out. A vote of thanks should be given the doctor for his enterprise and sterling worth.

His left hand was so badly crushed that two of his fingers will have to be amputated. The injured brakeman is now in the Southern Pacific hospital at Sacramento.

Willie Barley of this place was badly bitten by a savage dog last Wednesday. While walking along the county road the dog, which belongs to Theodore Skillman, suddenly attacked the lad and sank its teeth deep in the flesh of his face, disfiguring him for life. Dr. Thomson dressed the little fellow's wounds. The vicious dog was subsequently shot and killed by Constable Joe Ryan. There are several other savage dogs in this vicinity that are a constant menace to pedestrians who travel our roads and they ought to be muzzled or shot by their owners.

A NATURAL TUNNEL.

An Interesting a Curiosity as Virginia's Natural Bridge.

While the tourist comes from afar to view the Natural bridge and carries away forever photographed on his memory the stupendous spectacle, yet the natural tunnel of Scott county is conceded by most people who have seen them both to surpass the bridge in grandeur and sublimity of scenery.

The tunnel is situated fourteen miles west of Gate City. Stone creek, a considerable stream, flows through it, and at high tide rushes along its cavernous bed with a noise resembling the heaviest thunder. The tunnel is about one-eighth of a mile in length and curves in the form of the letter S. At its southern entrance it is very high, the noble ceiling bending gracefully, forming a circular dome as smooth and regular as if hollowed out by the hand of art. From this point it gradually diminishes in size, the roof coming down till at the northern entrance it reaches to within thirty feet of the surface of the water. The northern declivity above the tunnel is irregular and presents little attraction, except its bold and rugged height, but the southern side fully compensates for all deficiencies. Here a perpendicular wall, almost as smooth as polished marble and as white as alabaster, rises 400 feet high and curves in such a manner that to one looking up from below the regular rim presents a complete semicircle. In the spring time the summit of the wall is ringed with green, entertwined with honeysuckles. On the eastern side Chimney rock, an irregular but perpendicular column, rises from the bottom of the chasm to the level of the plateau above, standing clear of the wall from base to summit. The ridge through which the tunnel extends is covered with a heavy growth of timber, and a public highway, leading from Clinchport to Rye Cove, passes along its crest.

The Virginia and Southwestern railroad has been constructed through the tunnel and presents, perhaps, the only instance of a railroad running through a natural tunnel. Owing to the curvature the railroad company had to tunnel through the angular projection near the northern entrance, thus making a double tunnel.—Scott County Leader.

Tea Drinking.

The custom of tea drinking is as old as the Chinese empire, and as early as 780 A. D. a duty was levied on the tea that grew wild on the Chinese mountains. But it is within two centuries that its use was adopted by the English, when the East Tea company imported it and it was sold at $25 a pound. Its use was confined to the royal household. In the reign of Henry VII. a refreshment consisting of tea and cakes was called a voide.

On the occasion of the marriage dinner of Catherine of Aragon and Arthur, prince of Wales, the court chronicler wrote: "The evening refreshment called voide was brought in by fourscore earls, barons and knights, walking two and two. Ipocras and comfits were offered. One noble servitor presented the golden spice plate, a second the cups, while a third of lower rank filled the cups from a golden ewer."

Since then what Washington Irving calls the "motherly teapot" has become a power in the world.

A Bird That Sews.

The sewing or tailor bird of India is a little yellow creature not much larger than one's thumb. To escape falling a prey to snakes and monkeys the tailor bird, travelers say, picks up a dead leaf and flies up into a high tree and, with a fiber for a thread and its bill for a needle, sews the leaf on to a green one hanging from the tree, the sides being sewed up and an opening left at the top. That a nest is swinging in the tree no snake or monkey, or even a man, would suspect.

Too Much Bathing.

According to the London Lancet too much bathing is harmful, as it tends to "maceration of the superficial part of the epidermis, which is too frequently removed and occasions probably too rapid a proliferation of the cells of the malpighian layer." In spite of this portentous decision, however, it is safe to say that the mad Englishman will continue to stalk through Europe with his beloved tub, just as usual.

Eve's Apple Tree.

A poisonous fruit, supposed to have the mark of Eve's teeth, grows in Ceylon and the tree is called "Eve's apple tree." The fruit is of an orange tint on the outside and deep crimson within, and each apple has the appearance of having had a piece bitten out of it. This fact, together with its poisonous quality, led the Mohammedans to represent it as the forbidden fruit of the garden of Eden.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP

Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

"When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the honest truth. I at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a tea-spoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep perfectly free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never used it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second attack of coughing the remedy caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." DEAFNESS CURED

Louisville Man Originates a Simple Little Device that Instantly Restores the Hearing --- Fits Perfectly, Comfortably and Does Not Show.

190-page Book Free---Tells all About It.

Since the discovery Louisvilleo f a man, it is no longer necessary for any deaf person to carry a trumpet, a tube or any such old-fashioned device, for it is now possible for any one to hear perfectly by a simple invention that fits in the ear and cannot be detected. The honor belongs to Mr. Geo. H. Wilson of Louisville, who was himself deaf, and now hears as well as any one. He calls it Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drum, is built on the strictest scientific principles, containing no metal of any kind, and is entirely new in every respect. It is so small that no one can see it, but nevertheless it collects all sound waves and diverts them against the drum he d, causing you to hear perfectly. It will do this even when the natural ear drums are partially or entirely destroyed, perforated, scarred, relaxed or thickened. It fits any ear from childhood to old age, and aside from the fact that it does not show, it never causes the hearer irritation, and can be used with comfort day or night.

It will cure deafness in any person no matter how acquired, whether from catarrh, scarlet fever, typho d or brain fever, measles, whooping cough, gathering in the ear, shocks from artillery or through accidents. It not only cures but stays the progress of deafness and all roaring and buzzing noises It does this in a simple, sure and scientific way. The effect is immediate.

Let every person who needs this, at once send to the company for its 190-page book, which you can have free. It describes and illustrates Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drums and contains many bona fide letters from numerous users in the United States, Canada, Mexico, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, India. These letters are from people in every station of life, clergymen, physicians, lawyers, merchants, society ladies, etc., and tell the truth about the benefits to be derived from the use of this wonderful little device. You will find among them the names of people in your own town or State, and you are at liberty to write to any of them you wish and secure their opinion as to the merits of the only scientific ear drums for restoring the hearing to its normal condition.

Write to-day and it will not be long before you are ag in hearing. Add ess, for t e free book and convincing evidence, Wilson Ear Drum Co, Todd Building, Louisville, Ky., U. S. N.
